NEWSPAPER STRIKERS BATTLE WITH DRIVERS

ONE MAN SHOT AND MANY ARE HURT IN CHICAGO DURING DAY NEWSBOYS SLUGGED.

END OF STRIKE PREDICTED

President Freel Calls Men to Work
—Says Strike Was Illegal—Papers
Sold in Downtown Districts in Chicago Under Police Guard.

Chicago, May 7.—Special to the Telegraph—Early today bands of sluggers attacked newsboys selling papers here in different sections of the city. Many arrests were made.

The most serious fight occurred at the headquarters of the Willet Teaming company. Two hundred men armed with bricks and other missiles,
rushed two wagons that were leaving the barns at that moment. The drivers were hurled from their seats and beaten. Revolvers were drawn during the riot and one man was shot. The attack was made by newspaper strikers.

Sell Papers Under Guard.

Papers are being sold in the downtown districts today but it is necessary for a strong guard of police at every stand to protect both the newsboys who are selling and the customers who buy.

End of Strike Predicted.

It is predicted here that the end of the strike is in sight and that the trouble will soon end as President James Freel of the stereotypers' union has issued an order that the men return to work, stating that the strike was illegal.

ROOSEVELT APPEARS TO HAVE MARYLAND

THE COLONEL HAS 86 TO TAFT'S 63 UP TO DATE—CLARK GETS FIFTEEN DELEGATES.

Baltimore, Mr., May 7.—Special to the Telegraph—On the face of the returns today Roosevelt will get 86
votes in the republican state convention while Taft will receive 63. Clark will get 15 delegates to the democratic convention.

The total democratic vote in Baltimore was 29,302, of which Clark received 19,277; Wilson, 6,573, and Harmon, 3,293. 154 votes were polled for an unopposed delegation.

Roosevelt's great strength was shown in Baltimore, where he received 12,695 to 7,283 for Taft.
Clark will have 15 delegates to the national convention and 80 to the state.

CHANGE DATE OF 6TH. REG. ELECTION

ELECTION OF SUCCESSOR TO
COL. CHANNON TAKES PLACE
MAY 21, BY ORDER OF DICK-SON.

Springfield, Ill., May 7.—Special to the Telegraph—That a number of second lieutenants, who will be taking an officers' examination on May 14, the date set for the election of a successor to Col. Channon, may take part in the election, Adjutant General Dickson today issued an order changing the date of the election to Tuesday, May 21. The election will be held at Rock Island at 3 p. m. and
Gen. Channon will preside.

CYCLISTS MUST STAY IN ROAD.

Police Sergeant John Gaffney has issued orders to the officers on the force to immediately arrest all persons who are caught riding bicycles
on the sidewalks of the city and to see that the guilty ones are fined.
When the roads were bad the sergeant was inclined to give the cyclists the benefit of the doubt, but now that the roads are in good condition
he insists that the practice stop and announces that prosecutions will follow if the order is not heeded.

Fred Presbrey of Rockford spent Sunday here.

MAJ. GEORGE C. SQUIER.

Major Squier, an officer of the signal corps, has been appointed to military attaché of the American embassy in London, succeeding Maj. Stephen Slocum. Major Squier invented the multiplex telephone and gave his patent to the government.

PUPILS GRADUATE LAST OF MONTH

CLASS PLAY TO BE STAGED BY HIGH SCHOOL—COMMENCE-MENT MAY 31ST.

The graduating exercises of the Dixon high school, at which time 29
young people will complete work in the educational institution and will be granted diplomas from the school, will be held the last week in this month.

The Private Secretary.
The class play, "The Private Secretary," a bright little sketch on which rehearsals are now being held,
will be held at the opera house Wednesday evening, May 29, and it is promised that the affair will be of special interest.

The commencement exercises are to be held at the opera house Friday evening, May 31 and C. C. Morrison, editor of the Christian Century, is to be the orator. He comes very highly recommended both as a thinker and speaker.

The class has not yet reached a decision as to the time or place of having their baccalaureate sermon.

POLICE SEARCH FOR NOTICE DESTROYER

VANDAL WILL GET HIMSELF IN-TO SERIOUS TROUBLE TEAR-ING DOWN NOTICES OF FRAN-CHISE ELECTION.

Some narrow minded crook or misguided mischief maker has committed serious offenses about the city
this week and if the authorities who are seeking a clue to his identity succeed in their quest, drastic punishment will be meted out to the guilty
one. The offense is that of destroying election notices and it has been reported that a number of notices
for the coming franchise election on next Tuesday were taken down with in six hours after they were posted.
This is a serious offense and an especial effort is being made to determine who is guilty.

SAMUEL GANTZ IMPROVES.

Word received from Samuel Gantz who has been taking treatment at St. Louis, is to the effect that his malady is yielding satisfactorily to the treatment he is receiving and that he expects to be able to return home in a short time. His many friends will greet with pleasure this good news.

Thomas Clayton and Clinton Mossholder came out from Chicago
to spend Sunday at the Mossholder home on Peoria avenue. They were accompanied to Chicago last evening by Mrs. Clayton, son and daughter, who have been visiting here.

Attorney A. C. Bardwell was in Chicago Monday.

KILL 10, HURT 25 IN TRAIN SMASH

Texas Confederate Veterans' Special Wrecked Near Hattiesburg, Miss.

ENROUTE TO ANNUAL REUNION

Engine, Baggage Car, Day Coach and Three Sleepers Leave Track and Roll Down Embankment—Cause Is Unknown.

Hattiesburg, Miss., May 7.—Four trainmen and six or more passengers were killed and at least twenty-five passengers injured when the first section of the Texas Confederate reunion
special, en route to Macon, Ga., was wrecked at Gunns Mill, on the New Orleans & Northeastern railroad, six miles north of Hattiesburg.

Five bodies were brought to Hattiesburg on the cars of the big special which remained on the track, and five or six other bodies were reported under the wreckage.

The Dead and Injured.

Mrs. Charles Holmes, Bay Springs,
Tex.
Mrs. James Cameron, Henderson,
Tex.

Two unidentified girls, aged three and five; parents thought to be under wreckage.
Engineer "Billy" Wood, Hattiesburg.

Fireman C. C. Jones (colored), Meridian, Miss.

James S. Downing, Atlanta, Ga.
Dr. Boone, Mr. Denham and one other man from Mansfield, La., are missing and thought to be under the wreckage.

Five bodies are positively known to be under the wreckage.

The engine, baggage car, the day
coach and three tourist sleepers left the track and rolled over down an embankment. The six remaining coaches of the veterans' special were hurriedly transformed into a morgue
and hospital, and as soon as an engine
reached the scene the dead and injured were brought here. The injured, some of whom are believed to be fatally hurt, filled the two hospitals of Hattiesburg, while the dead were taken to an undertaking establishment.

Doctors and Nurses on Scene.

Five doctors and three nurses reached the scene of the terrible accident within half an hour after the first news reached here. Living comrades of the dead and injured veterans, however, had not forgotten the lessons they learned on the field of battle, and their attention to the dead and the administrations to the wounded were prompt.

With the assistance of the members of the train crew whose lives were spared, the passengers soon had all of the injured removed to the cars
that stood on the tracks and had gathered together the remains of as many of the dead as it was possible to reach before the wrecking derrick could reach the scene to lift the debris from those plied beneath it.

The train was from New Orleans,
and was occupied entirely by the veterans and wives and families.

Cause of Wreck Unknown.

The cause of the wreck has not been ascertained positively. The train was running at about thirty miles an hour and was crossing an embankment with a trestle in the center. Just as the engine reached the trestle it was seen to rear up and leave the track.

CO. G. BOYS RECEIVE THEIR SILVER MEDALS

TWO OUT OF THREE HONORED IN REGIMENT ARE DIXONITES
—DRILL WAS EXCELLENT.

The drill of company G last evening was one of more than ordinary interest, several features combining to make it so. Messrs. Lewis and Salisbury, who were called to Chicago
Saturday to receive their decorations
as being among the best shots in the state, were present at the drill and proudly exhibited their handsome silver medals. But three men from the sixth regiment were awarded medals, and two of the three are from Co. G. Captain Hall, commanding Co. K of Kankakee, was here on a political errand relative to the selection of a successor to Col. Chan-non at next Tuesday's election at Rock Island, and a number of new members were also taken into the company.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Eisenberg, son and daughter of Ashton, drove to our city in their Overland car yesterday and transacted business.

COL. ASTOR'S WILL IS MADE PUBLIC

Widow to Have Income From $5,000,000 Trust Fund
and $100,000 Cash.

FIRST WIFE NOT MENTIONED

Daughter Alice Muriel Provided For—Son Vincent, as Residuary Legatee,
Will Receive the Largest Share of Estate at Majority.

New York, May 7.—The next mistress of Beechwood, the beautiful Astor place of Newport, will be the bride of Vincent Astor, whoever that may be, and not Mrs. Madeline Force Astor, the young widow of the late
Col. John Jacob Astor.

That the bride of last September,
now a widow, has lost all claim upon this social mecca at the famous summer resort of New York's 400 is made clear in the provisions of Colonel Astor's will, as made public here.

Under the terms of the will the young widow is to have the use of the income from a trust fund of $5,000,000,
but upon her death or remarriage the fund goes to William Vincent Astor.
Until the fund has been established
she is to receive an income of $200,000
a year. She also receives an outright legacy of $100,000. The Astor town house and stables at Fifth avenue and Sixty-fifth street, with all its furnishings is left to her until death or remarriage, when it is bequeathed to William Vincent Astor.

Mrs. Astor is given all horses and other live stock, all carriages, harness
and stable furnishings, automobiles, provisions and supplies subject to the disposal of the testator at the time of his death, "excepting such as are otherwise disposed of."

These provisions for his widow are made in lieu of dower and all other claims upon his estate," says the will.

First Wife's Name Not Mentioned.

No mention of Mrs. Ava Willing Astor is made in the will, the settlement
made at the time of her divorce having disposed of all her claims against the estate.

To William Vincent Astor is bequeathed Ferncliffe-on-the-Hudson, with all the lands and personal property at Rhinebeck, the house and grounds at Newport, all pictures and statuary left to the testator for life by his father's will and all his jewelry, wearing apparel, personal effects, yachts and boats.

The will bequeaths to Alice Muriel Astor, the ten-year-old daughter, a trust of $5,000,000, so much of the income therefrom as the trustees may determine to be applied to her support, maintenance and education during her minority, the balance of the income to be accumulated.

Upon attaining the age of twenty-one Alice Muriel is to receive this fund with its accumulations absolutely. In case of her death without will or issue this fund goes to William Vincent Astor.

A trust fund of $3,000,000 is created for the benefit of each child who shall survive the testator other than his son, William Vincent Astor, to be held in trust for such child until the age of twenty-one.

Other bequests are: To St. Paul's school, Concord, N. H., a legacy of $30, 000; to James S. Armstrong, Rhinebeck, N. Y., $30,000; to his brother-in-law, James Roosevelt-Roosevelt, $20, 000; to Douglas Robinson, $20,000; to Nicholas Biddle, $20,000; to Robert H.
M. Ferguson of Silver City, N. M., a friend, $10,000; to William A. Dobbyn, secretary, "in recognition of faithful services," $25,000; to Thomas Hade, his steward, $10,000; to Herbert A. Pinkham, superintendent of the Rhinebeck
estate, $10,000.

Mr. Astor directs that all legacy, inheritance or transfer taxes payable in respect of any property passing under this will be paid out of his residuary
estate.

Son Residuary Legatee.

As the residuary legatee in his father's estate Vincent Astor will come into possession on his twenty-first birthday, on the 15th of November next, of real estate in New York, the value of which was fixed at $57,669,300
under the last assessment.

His brother-in-law, James Roosevelt-
Roosevelt, and his friends, Douglas Robinson and Nicholas Biddle, together with his son, William Vincent Astor, are named as executors and also trustees of the several trusts created by the will.

The will was executed in New York September 18, 1911, ten days after his marriage to Madeline Force Astor.

That Mrs. Astor accepted a sum of money, rumored to be $5,000,000, in lieu of dower rights, was confirmed here.

The value of the estate is estimated at from $75,000,000 to $100,000,000.

DAUGHTER BORN.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Withers are the parents of a baby girl which arrived this morning.

DEATH AND WANT FOLLOW FLOOD

Mississippi Higher Than Ever Known From Vicksburg
to New Orleans.

PROPERTY LOSS INCALCULABLE

Many Louisiana Parishes Completely Inundated—Thousands Homeless
and as Many More Marooned Without Hope of Rescue.

FEATURES OF MISSISSIPPI RIVER FLOODS.

From Vicksburg, Miss., to New Orleans the Mississippi river is from half a foot to two and a half feet higher than ever known.

An additional rise of one foot from New Orleans north to Baton Rouge is predicted for this week by the weather bureau.

The crest is expected at Baton Rouge within two days and at New Orleans by Saturday or Sunday.

There has been loss of life within the past 24 hours, but the exact number is unknown.

Heavy rains fell at intervals over the affected area.

A break has occurred in the levee at the town of Melville, La., on the Atchafalaya river, doing great damage.
Other danger points along the Mississippi are: Baton Rouge, Bonnet Carre, Morrison, Plaquemine, Scott's Landing, Cypress Hall, New Roads
and the third district, which embraces
New Orleans.

Many parishes are completely flooded. Thousands of persons are homeless; other thousands are marooned
with little prospect of their rescue.
The monetary damage will be enormous.

The Mississippi has been at flood stage from Cairo to the gulf for nearly six weeks. The federal government, in addition to having furnished rations for the sufferers during this time, increased the senate appropriation for this purpose to $1,500,000.

The greater portion of the levee
system has been ruined and rebuilding is necessary. For this purpose $30,000,000 was asked in the house of representatives today.

New Orleans, May 7.—Point Coupee
is a scene of death and want as reported here. Over twenty-five lives were lost there when the flood-swollen Mississippi broke its levee boundaries and carrying death and destruction with it swept the country side with its muddy waters.

The Torras crevasse has developed into a great disaster. Many lives undoubtedly have been lost, while the property damage will run high up into the millions of dollars.

What the exact loss of life has been
is not known, and never will be known. That a large number have perished is certain, but it is impossible to secure names or details.

Many Rescued by Motor Boats.

The motor boat fleet engaged in rescue operations did heroic work. As fast as one family was rescued the boats went after others and the launches were worked to the limit. Information was received from Letts-worth that 50 persons were crowded into one house west of that place and were in imminent danger of being drowned. The house had been washed off its foundations and was floating around in the water.

The property loss will reach enormous figures. Hundreds of people have not only lost their crops, but thousands of farm animals have been drowned.

Atchafalaya Levees Go Out.

Opelousas, La., May 7.—The levee
on the west bank of the Atchafalaya
at Elba, five miles north of Melville, went out with a roar. The break is now about twenty feet wide and is still spreading.

There is no chance of repairing the damage at the break at the point where work had been done for the past several days in order to prevent it.

A heavy rain has been falling and the break was no surprise. There has been no loss of life, as every one had been warned to leave.

CONDITION OF WINTER WHEAT.

Washington, D. C., May 7.—The bureau of agriculture's report on the condition of winter wheat on May 1
is as follows:

May 1, 1912—79.7.
April 1, 1912—80.6.
May 1, 1911—86.1.
Acreage, 25,744,000.
Acreage sown as shown last December, 22,213,000.
Showing abandoned acreage, 6, 459,000 acres.

J. Kane of Chicago visited Dixon
friends Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Edwards are in Chicago.

MISS ELEANOR ANDERSON.

Miss Anderson, who is the daughter of Medical Director Frank Anderson, U. S. N., is to be married on May 14
to Ensign Rush Southgate Fay, U.
S. N.

FLAMES DESTROY COUNTRYMAN BARN

STORM OF LAST NIGHT WAS RE-SPONSIBLE FOR LOSS OF A VALUABLE BUILDING.

WAS STRUCK BY LIGHTENING

Blaze Illuminated the Sky, Alarming
Many—Fire Department Made a Run to Scene, But Were Helpless.

A large barn on the I. B. Countryman farm south of the city, which farm is occupied by A. Alsaefer, was struck by lightning at about 1:30 last night and destroyed by the fire which followed. The barn was a modern structure, 30x60 feet, and contained a great deal of farm machinery, which was also burned. Mr.
Countryman places his to at about $1,500 which is partially covered by insurance, the machinery being uninsured.

The conflagration made an exceptionally big blaze and illuminated
the sky brightly. This illumination caused many to believe the fire was in town; it resulted in a call for the fire department, who made a run to the Countryman farm. They were unable to prevent the fire from consuming the barn.

MCWETHY VS TRUMAN STILL IN COURT

CASE STILL UNDECIDED BY JUR-ORS AT 3 P. M.—SEIGERT VS.
PHILPOTT CASE GOES ON TRIAL.

The case of McWethy vs. Truman, which was tri'd yesterday and this morning in the circuit court, went to the jury before noon and at 3 p.
m. they were still deliberating over the case. Attorney Mark Keller appeared for McWethy and Attorney
H. A. Brooks defended.

This afternoon the case of Seigert vs. Philpott was put on trial and the jury was selected as follows: Geo.
Heffley, Wm. Lough, Harry Stultz, Edward Mensch, Frank Messer, T.
H. Long Jr., Freeman Robinson, Harry Osborne, Chan. Charlton, Amos Wise, Walter Hays and O. A. Young.

The case is one growing out of negotiations for the trade of Mr. Philpott's real estate and business holdings in this city for a farm in Wisconsin. Each party agreed to furnish a satisfactory and perfect abstract of title and also put up a note
for $500 as default. Mr. Philpott maintains that the title as presented by Seigert was not perfect and that therefore he was not bound to continue the deal. Mr. Seigert claims the title is all right and is suing for the $500 note. Attorney H. A. Brooks is counsel for Mr. Seigert and Mark C.
Keller and Harry Edwards are Mr.
Philpott's attorneys.

Miss Helen Bogue went to Chicago Sunday.

APPROPRIATIONS MADE BY COUNCIL

COMMISSIONERS TOOK ANNUAL ACTION—APPORTIONED
$59,357.46.

ACCEPTANCE OF FRANCHISE FILED

Monthly Bills of $2040.47 — Petition for Areraway Is Referred to Schuler—Session Was Short and Sweet.

WHAT THE COUNCIL DID.

Passed the annual appropriation ordinance, providing for the apportionment of $59,357.46.

Allowed monthly bills totalling $2040.47.

Referred petition of Loftus & O'- Connell for permission to have an areaway and steps with electroliter
at their new building, to Commissioner Schuler, with power to act.

Accepted and placed on file the acceptance of the new franchises by the Lee County Lighting company
and the S. D. & E.

Monday night's meeting of the council, which was presided over by Commissioner Henry Schmidt in the absence of Mayor Brinton, was short and sweet for there were absolutely no arguments to ruffle the calm manner in which the motions were made and the roll was called.

The annual appropriation ordinance, which was outlined in this paper a week ago, was passed. The ordinance provides that the city's money shall be apportioned to the different departments as follows:

Public affairs	$21,457.46
Accts. & finances	11,480.00
Health and safety	9,250.00
Public improvements	7,570.00
Public property	5,700.00
Lowell park	1,500.00
Public library	2,400.00

Total $59,357.46

File Acceptances.

The four acceptances of the S. D.
& E. and the Lee County Lighting companies of the terms of the ordinances which were passed recently by the council and which will be voted on by the people of Dixon a week
from today, were presented and accepted by the council. The nature of the acceptances was outlined in this paper a few days ago.

Schuler May Act.

When the petition of Loftus & O'Connell, asking that they be permitted to have an areaway under the sidewalk at their new building on Galena avenue, and that they be permitted to erect a stairway into the basement, said stairway to project into the sidewalk about two feet,
said projection to be protected by fancy iron railing and two handsome electroliters and lamps, the first discussion of the evening made its appearance.

Commissioner Schuler said he did not know about the lights out there,
because it might obstruct the view
of a sign hung on a building near it.
The commissioners turned the matter over to him with power to act.
Following which they adjourned.

WILL DEBATE IN ELDENA FRIDAY

PROGRAM TO TAKE PLACE IN WOODMAN HALL UNDER AUS-PICES OF THE EVANGELICAL CHURCH.

A debate will be held at the Woodman hall in Eldena on Friday night,
May 10th, under the auspices of the Evangelical church, to which all are invited.

The subject is: "Resolved, That the Country Is a Better Place to Develop Character than the City," and will be discussed by L. W. Martin, Sam Forney and David Landerson as the affirmative, and W. W. Shippert, George Welsh and I. H. Mossholder
as the negative.

The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's father May 1. John C. McClary of Los Angeles. The newly married couple left for Chicago immediately, and the last of this month will sail for Europe, where they will spend the summer.

After Sept. 15, Mr. and Mrs. Howe will be at home at 4430 Dearborn Blvd., Chicago, for some time, before returning to their home in Los Angeles, dividing their time between the west and Chicago, where Mr. Howe has large interests.

Mrs. Howe is well known in Dixon and Palmyra, being the daughter of John C. McClary, formerly of Palmyra. She is a graduate of Northwestern university, and Haasemann hospital, Chicago. She has been practicing nursing for some time in California.

Causes Of Disease!

Fully 80 percent of food and drink have been rendered "foodless" by unnatural methods of cooking and serving!

Healthy, active brains and bodies cannot remain well and strong on such "matter." In fact they are worse than "foodless" they are slow poisons! No wonder the rate of insanity is increasing twice as fast as the rate of population of our state.

Irene, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Miller, entertained ten little girl friends Saturday afternoon at a birthday party, as she was ten years old Sunday. The little girls spent a happy afternoon in games, and refreshments were served, the beautiful cake being greatly admired with the ten candles burning brightly. The little guests wished Irene many happy returns of the day.

AMBOY CLUB GAVE ENTERTAINMENT

COMMERCIAL CLUB IN THAT ENTERPRISING TOWN HELD SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR.

Amboy, May 7.—The annual entertainment, social and dance of the Amboy Commercial club, which was held at the opera house last evening, was a decided success in every way and the happy good-will of the affair has been a topic of much conversation here today.

The attendance was especially large when the concert program was commenced. The program, which was as follows, was commendable in every detail, the work of Walter Aschenbrenner, Earl Blades and Miss Anna Miller of the Chicago Conservatory of Music, being worthy of special praise:

Tone Poeme—Commercial Club Orchestra.
Vocal Solo—My Dear, Ernest R. Hall.
—Miss Grace Leaks.

Piano Solo—A Norwegian Bridal Procession by Greig; Etude by Chopin—Mr. Earl Blades.

Motored to Polo.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hamaker of Rochelle and Miss Ima Shelhamer of this city spent Sunday at the John Wilson home in Polo, making the trip in the Hamaker car.

To Franklin Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Shaulis drove to Franklin Grove in their car Sunday.

Knights and Ladies of Security.

There will be a regular meeting of the Knights and Ladies of Security tomorrow evening at Union hall.

Social at Strong's Studio.

There will be a social this evening at Strong's Studio, the pupils and friends attending. Refreshments will be served and a happy time enjoyed.

Picnic Tomorrow.

The True Blue class of the Methodist Sunday school will enjoy a picnic tomorrow at Adelheid park, if it is pleasant. If the weather is inclement the picnic will be held indoors.

At Strong's College.

The pupils of Strong's College of Music will enjoy a social at the school rooms this evening and on Thursday evening there will be a recital by the younger pupils.

Foresters Dance Tonight.

All arrangements have been completed for the May party and dance to be given in Rosbrook hall this evening by the members of the M. W. A. Foresters' team and the indications are for an exceptionally large attendance. The Marquette orchestra of six pieces will furnish the music and the members of the team are anticipating a happy party.

Children's Party at Elks.

The children's party at the Elks' Thursday evening, from 8 to 11 o'clock, promises to be one of the happy events of the season and the youngsters are taking a great deal of interest in the event, and the house committee is making every possible effort to provide entertainment for them.

May Invite Friends.

The house committee of the Elks this afternoon announced that Elks and their children may invite any of their little friends they may wish to the children's party Thursday evening.

MRS. HOWARD WON

MEDAL IN CONTEST

The W. M. S. Silver Medal contest at the Eldena church on Sunday evening was a great success. The contestants were Mrs. Wm. Shippert, Mrs. Ralph Howard, Miss Minnie Welch, Miss Ethel Shoemaker, Miss Emiline Welch and Miss Elsie Shoemaker. Mrs. Ralph Howard was awarded the silver medal. A collection of $10 was taken up at the meeting.

DIRECTORS MEET.

The directors of the Y. M. C. A. will hold a business meeting Friday evening at the Eldena church on Sunday evening at which time some important matters will come up for consideration, and a week from next Friday evening, May 17, something special, of which further announcement will be made, will be held at the association.

SUFFERED EVERYTHING

For Fourteen Years. Restored To Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Elgin, Ill.—"After fourteen years of suffering everything from female complaints, I am at last restored to health."

"I employed the best doctors and even went to the hospital for treatment and was told there was no help for me. But while taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I began to improve and I continued its use until I was made well."

—Mrs. HENRY LEISEBERG, 743 Adams St. Kearneysville, W. Va.—"I feel it my duty to write and say what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered from female weakness and at times felt so miserable I could hardly endure being on my feet."

"After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and following your special directions, my trouble is gone. Words fail to express my thankfulness. I recommend your medicine to all my friends."

—Mrs. G. B. WHITTINGTON.

The above are only two of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which show clearly what great things Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound does for those who suffer from woman's ills.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

DEMEN TOWN

Siebolt says Taft must certainly be in a bad way if he isn't sure of his supporters, because a man of Taft's size certainly can't depend on his belt.

Remember of meeting the young lady who has to be coaxed to play the piano? At first you're afraid she is going to stop playing and after about an hour you're afraid she isn't.

Evidently some arrangement as to departments has been reached. Previously all applications regarding areaways, etc., were referred to the department of public health and safety. Now they go to the street department. Possibly Van Bibber will get the next one.

A father was bragging about the extreme care his son took of his person and was waxing very eloquent, when the lecture was stopped by the remark of a hard working man standing near by. "Huh! What else has he to do?" Which would indicate that the son was not altogether too industrious.

And a violent baseball argument in front of Eli's was stopped just about as quickly Sunday night, when Red Curran got the floor. He told of his many exciting experiences in games at Harmon and other cities, when Bill Coffey interrupted by saying that he knew of a game near Harmon in which the umpire sat on a horse all the time so he could get away at the shortest notice. Coffey then turned and leaned against the Indian in front of the store which caused Red to remark that anyone telling a yarn like that must need some support. The gang chased him clear home and he hasn't been down town yet.

CLARK BAGS CONVENTION

Takes Washington Democratic Meet From the Wilson Forces.

Walla Walla, Wash., May 7.—Clark ran away with the Democratic state convention here when Wilson men practically had matters clinched. It was one of the bitterest fights in Washington's Democratic history. At the outset of the meeting George Hazard of Seattle showed up with a proxy for E. J. Hancock of Island county and turned the tide in favor of Clark as against Woodrow Wilson.

McFarland Whips Robinson.
Rochester, N. Y., May 7.—Packey McFarland of Chicago made Red Robinson of Pittsburgh look like a novice in every round of their ten-round engagement before the Olympic A. C. here. More than 1,500 spectators witnessed the battle.

Aluminum Trust Is Hit.
Washington, May 7.—Suit asking for the dissolution of the aluminum trust as a corporation doing business in restraint of trade, and in violation of the Sherman law, will be filed Friday by Assistant Attorney General Chantland of the department of justice at Pittsburgh, Pa.

Judge Mabee of Canada Dead.
Toronto, Ont., May 7.—Judge J. P. Mabee, chairman of the railway commission of Canada, died here following an operation for appendicitis.

HALF-CENT BILL PASSES

House Adopts Freak Coinage Measure To Revive 3-Cent Piece.

Washington, May 7.—One-half cent bargain counter pieces, which split a cent in two, are responsible for a bill which passed the house here providing for the coinage of one-half cent pieces. Fearing their remnant kin, not a member of the house opposed the measure. This new coin will be similar in size to the present one-cent piece, but will have a hole in the middle to distinguish it from the more valuable piece. The old-time three-cent piece also is to be revived. The three-cent trolley car fare is responsible for the three-cent piece.

STEAMER MINIA IN PORT

Vessel Carrying More Titanic Victims Arrives at Halifax.

Halifax, N. S., May 7.—With her flags at half mast as indicative of her mournful mission, the cable ship Minia, which succeeded the Mackay-Bennett in the search for bodies of the Titanic disaster victims off the Newfoundland grand banks, arrived in port with 15 corpses on board. Seventeen bodies in all had been picked up by the Minia, but of these two were buried at sea. Among the bodies on board the ship was that of Charles M. Hays, late president of the Grand Trunk railway, who lost his life in the disaster.

They Never have Headache, Biliousness, Sluggish Liver or Bowels or Sick, Sour Stomach.

No odds how bad your liver, stomach or bowels, how much your head aches, how miserable and uncomfortable you are from constipation, indigestion, biliousness and sluggish intestines—you always get the desired results with Cascarets and quickly too.

Don't let your stomach liver and bowels make you miserable another moment; put an end to the headache, biliousness, dizziness, nervousness, sick sour gassy stomach, backache and all other distresses, cleanse your inside organs of all the poison and effete matter which is producing the misery.

Take a Cascaret now; don't wait until bedtime. In all the world there is no remedy like this. A 10-cent box means health, happiness and a clear head for months. No more days of gloom and distress if you will take a Cascaret now and then all druggists sell Cascarets. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing too.

T. R. WINS MARYLAND

Roosevelt Wins Over Taft in Primary Vote.

Champ Clark Is Successful Democratic Candidate—Vote in Both Camps Very Close.

Baltimore, Md., May 7.—Roosevelt will control the Republican state convention by three votes. He secured a popular majority in the primaries held throughout the state.

On the Democratic side Champ Clark swept the city and carried enough counties in the state to give his friends control of the convention. Clark has 69 delegates to the state convention; Wilson, 65; Harmon, 4. Roosevelt has 66 in the Republican convention; Taft, 63.

Clark and Roosevelt swept Baltimore city and both got the popular plurality in the state.

NEVADA'S SIX FOR TAFT

State Republican Convention Indorses Administration—List of Delegates.

Fallon, Neb., May 7.—The state Republican convention here indorsed the Taft administration and instructed the following delegates for Taft: Senator George S. Nixon, Congressman E. E. Roberts, H. V. Morehouse of Goldfield, R. B. Govan of Tonopah, W. W. Williams of Fallon and Mel Badt of Wells.

WHAT Is Your Disease?

DR. R. S. PIPER

Will Be At Hotel Nachusa, Dixon

FRIDAY, May 10

Office Hours--8:30 a. m. to 4 p.

"He is honest with you"

He returns every twenty-eight Days

Why You Should Come

Many have asked Dr. Piper, how it is that he can cure chronic diseases that the general practitioner can do nothing with. The general answer is: Dr. Piper has devoted his life to the study of Chronic Disease. He devotes all of his time to his given specialty. He does nothing but office work. Instead of having one office with a practice limited to a radius of a few miles, he has a number of offices, and his practice covers hundreds of miles. He advertises for the difficult and baffling cases that have been seeking relief sometimes for years, many of which come to him and find health and happiness, through the aid of his diagnostic methods and deep acting blood remedies. His advice is always welcome to you, a YOU PLACE YOURSELF UNDER NO OBLIGATION WHEN YOU CALL. Come at once and consult the doctor—next time may be too late.

Many of you who have been taking medicine and so called treatments for months will be absolutely cured in a few weeks. Very chronic cases will require somewhat longer time, but it will make no difference; you will be treated free, remedies excepted, until you can say, "I AM CURED."

Catarrh Are your lungs or bronchial tubes weak? Do you cough and expectorate diseased mucus? Does your nose stop up? Is your breath offensive? Have you a bad taste in your mouth? Have you pains in your chest? Are you bothered with shortness of breath and weak spells? Do you have throat trouble with hawking and clearing of your throat? Do you have dripping of streaking mucus from the back part of your nose into your throat? Call and have the doctor examine you. There is no need for you to have Catarrh. It often leads to that dreaded disease that is killing thousands of our best people—Consumption. Dr. Piper's treatment can be used in your home daily. No need of expensive office treatments.

Chronic Stomach Trouble causes more people to be misunderstood than any other diseased condition of the body. You are irritable in disposition—easily angered. You have plenty of ideas, but never carry any of them out. You are always tired. You have to force yourself to accomplish anything. You become blue and despondent and have many other symptoms which you know only too well. These are the mental symptoms of a deranged stomach. Other symptoms are: Bloating, Belching of gas, sour or greasy matter from the stomach, Pain, Diarrhea, Weakness, Palpitation of the heart, Constipation or Diarrhea, Unhealthy complexion, Changeable appetite, and Coated tongue. All these symptoms point to a deranged digestion. If you have any of these symptoms, lose no time. Dr. R. S. Piper's depositing remedies will cure you, no matter how many doctors have failed. His specialty is the curing of deep, aggravated chronic diseases. His motto is PAY HIM HIS FEE WHEN CURED.

Rheumatism Are you beginning to become sore and stiffened in your joints? Are your joints congested and swollen? Are you unable to move your arms and legs? Is your tongue coated and your breath bad? Is your urine high colored and offensive? Do you have pain in your back? Do you have aching in your limbs? Do you have aching in your joints? Do you have aching in your muscles? Do you have aching in your bones? Do you have aching in your tendons? Do you have aching in your ligaments? Do you have aching in your cartilages? Do you have aching in your meninges? Do you have aching in your peritoneum? Do you have aching in your pleura? Do you have aching in your pericardium? Do you have aching in your synovium? Do you have aching in your epidermis? PENNSYLVANIA FIGHT ON

Democratic State Convention Opens
in Harrisburg—Two Factions.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 7.—A fight for the control of the Democratic state convention is on here today between the Ritter and Guthrie factions. Chairman Ritter of the "regulars" claims 112 of the 183 delegates, and Chairman Guthrie of the reorganizers announced that his faction will control 127 delegates. The temporary chairman is William A. Glasgow, a Philadelphia lawyer. The reorganizers will run Joseph O'Brien of Scranton for permanent chairman, and former Judge James G. Gordon of Philadelphia will be the candidate of the Ritter faction. The most interesting contest is that for national committeeman, James M. Guffey, the present committeeman having announced that he is not a candidate, the choice lying between Congressman A. M. Palmer and Judge Gordon.

NELSON HITS BEEF MEN

Says By Collusion With Agricultural Dept. They Sell Diseased Meat.

Washington, May 7.—As the result of a secret investigation during which he has examined witnesses in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago, Omaha and other cities, Representative John M. Nelson of Wisconsin announced here that he has uncovered a gigantic conspiracy between the beef packing interests and certain officials in the department of agriculture.

Mr. Nelson charges that through secret orders from officials of the department to inspectors stationed in slaughter houses the packing interests are enabled to kill and distribute many thousands of diseased cattle every week, menacing the health of the entire United States. Photographic copies of such orders are now in his possession.

SOME MISAPPREHENSIONS REGARDING LIGHTING FRANCHISE.

There is a misapprehension existing in the minds of some of the citizens of Dixon as to just what position this city will be in with reference to light and power in case the plant is rehabilitated and made a general central power station. Some people seem to think that if this is done that the power will be transmitted from Dixon to other points for general distribution and that for this reason Dixon would be short of power or limited as to its output for the needs of the citizens and manufacturers here. Nothing could be farther from the truth. The facts are that if this plant is to be made a central power station with generating capacity large enough to supply the needs of Dixon and those of several surrounding cities and towns this would be an absolute guaranty that Dixon would be the one point that would not be limited in any way as to its power supply, but would have more than ample power to supply its present and future needs. It is a well known fact that electricity can be sold at a greater profit at the point where the same is generated than at any other place. It is also a fact that when electricity is transmitted on high tension lines to outside points there is a large percentage of loss in the current.

To Spend From $150,000 to $200,000.

Under the provisions of the ordinance this new company is required to spend from $150,000 to $200,000 in Dixon. This they have pledged themselves to do by accepting the terms of the ordinance as passed by the council. Before they are through with the development of the power property in Dixon the expenditures may run far and away beyond this amount. This is one of the essential elements in the ordinance that affects the business and working men of Dixon. The distribution of a large proportion of this money in wages to the working men of Dixon must of necessity benefit every merchant and business man in Dixon. At least one-half of the amount of money to be expended will be for labor and building material that can be furnished in Dixon and this money of course will remain in Dixon permanently. During the past few years and at the present time there have been many men in Dixon out of employment, men who have families. Many others have moved with their families to other localities. It will require about eighteen months to do the work necessary in rebuilding and rehabilitating the electric light plant and water power and this means that there will be work for that length of time for a large number of men during the construction, and permanent employment for a considerable force after the construction work is done. What Dixon wants is the central power station which will mean surplus power for Dixon industries at all times and permanent positions for those who want work.

A BOOSTER FOR DIXON.

ELMER TODD RETIRES WITH FINE RECORD

FORMER DIXONITE NOW FAMOUS
IN THE WEST, LEAVES GOVERNMENT SERVICE AGAINST WISHES OF TAFT AND WICKERSHAM.

Elmer Ely Todd, formerly of this city, and since 1907 United States district attorney for the Western district of Washington with offices at Seattle, has resigned from his federal position to resume the practice of law, his real nation taking place on May 1. He resigned against the wishes of President Taft and Attorney General Wickersham, and leaves a most excellent record of successful service. "One that is almost unparalleled in government annals, in spite of his distinction as one of the youngest men to hold the office," says the Seattle Times. Mr. Todd has now remained in office five months after the expiration of his term, at the urgent request of the officials at Washington, but he has decided to refuse the request of the president, that he stay in office for four years more.

The Seattle Times contains a quarter page likeness of this former Dixon boy who has become so famous and attained such high honors in the west, much to the delight of many friends here. It also contains about a column of reading matter telling of his exceptionally good work and enviable record.

Mr. Todd's mother and sister Mrs. James H. Todd and Anna Todd reside in North Dixon.

SMILE, PLEASE!

Harry Humphrey has decided to try a new advertising scheme, provided experiments he is now making prove successful. His scheme is to take a photograph of all his patrons and have these photographs reduced and printed on the inside of the collars. He submitted to having his picture taken yesterday as a demonstration but the camera got but one ear, so he'll have to try again.

Watson's Theory Correct

Dixon Man Years Ago Satisfied Himself As To Natures Great Medicinal Powers---Took Question
Up--His Discovery a Boon to Mankind.

His belief in the great and good powers of nature, backed by an industrious campaign of experiments, resulted in a Dixon man bringing to the attention of physicians and medical authorities a principle which they have found to be absolutely correct, and which has brought a radical change in at least one department of the hospitals in the country.

It was over five years ago that Samuel N. Watson, president of the Dixon Pure Ice company, conceived the idea that nature, always good and correct, must, because of its certainty in all things, destroy whatever harmful ingredients there are in water, by freezing it.

Starts Investigations.

He got busy. He melted ice and had it tested by local chemists. The result was encouraging. Then he went further. He melted ice as soon as it was taken from the river; and melted ice that had been stored for four or five weeks. The result of these experiments brought out more of the wonders of nature.

Satisfied with his own investigations in 1910, on September 3rd, to be exact, Mr. Watson wrote to Harold W. Cole, secretary of the Natural Ice Association of America, telling him of his experiments and their satisfactory conclusion.

Association Takes It Up.

Mr. Cole was an enthusiastic believer. He asked Mr. Watson to send what data he had, and promised his influence in having the question taken up by the association. The question was actually taken up with H. W. Bahrenburg, president of the association, on September 21, 1910, who within a few days wrote to Mr. Watson:

"I want to take this opportunity of thanking you for the suggestion you made some time back, the result of this suggestion being a paper furnished by Prof. Sparks, to my mind this is a highly important matter, and I trust this paper will be of such nature that he will be able to circulate it throughout the country, and I have no doubt but that it will be from the general talks I have had with him, as he is very enthusiastic about the subject."

Campaign Is Started.

As a result of the investigation by Mr. Watson scientists took the matter up, and finally tracts were prepared for public distribution by:

C. E. A. Winslow, Associate Professor of Biology, College of City of New York, and Curator of Public Health, American Museum of Natural History, New York, N. Y.

John C. Sparks, D. Sc., F. C. S., of New York City.

Dr. Hibbert W. Hill, Director of Division of Epidemiology, Minnesota State Board of Health.

M. J. Rosenau, Prof. of Preventive Medicine and Hygiene, Harvard Medical School, Boston, Mass.

Edwin O. Jordan, Ph. D., Prof. of Bacteriology, University of Chicago; Editor of Journal of Infectious Diseases, Chicago.

All Recommend It.

All of these authorities and many more, recommend melted ice water in preference to distilled water. For instance:

Dr. Jordan says: "The great majority of typhoid bacilli perish within a short time. All investigators are now agreed that three weeks after freezing less than 1 per cent, and probably less than one-half of 1 per cent remain. To the initial purification brought about by freezing is added the still further reduction of bacterial life through storage."

Dr. Winslow says in his tract on the subject: "In truth, nature has safeguarded the production of natural ice in a remarkable degree. As the temperature falls in the quiet winter nights, and the sheet of crystal creeps downward, selective forces draw together and freeze into the mass one substance, water; and push aside the impurities, the organic matter, the salts, the bacteria, into the black depths below. A fraction of these foreign substances is caught among the ice crystals but so far as the bacteria are concerned a new purifying factor is at work even with in the cake of ice. 'What will not time subdue?' the old song asks. It does subdue bacteria, for in ice, or water, or any substances in which there is little to feed on, the bacteria which are used to rich foods of the human body, gradually perish. Every week that your cake of ice floats in the pond, or rests in the sawdust of the ice house, it is growing purer.

Tells of Experiments.

Prof. Winslow then tells of experiments in which it is shown that in freezing the process excluded most of the bacteria by squeezing them into the water below; about 90 per cent being found in the water below, while about 10 per cent are in the ice. He then shows that of the 10 per cent of germs in the ice itself 90 per cent die out in one week and over 99 per cent die in three weeks. Thus less than one-tenth of one per cent, or less than one-thousandth of the germs that were originally in the water can be found in the ice after it has been frozen and stored for three weeks.

Can Keep It Pure.

Another advantage which further investigation showed is that ice can be kept pure while water can not; Dr. Sparks saying in his treatise on the subject: "One of the great difficulties in delivering a pure water for drinking purposes is that water absorbs impurities with great quickness and if placed in a container that is not absolutely clean immediately loses its purity, absorbing any material that may be in the container. Ice, on the other hand, being in a solid form, does not absorb impurities and if washed with pure water before being melted, the difficulty of transporting it is very much less than that of water."

No Typhoid.

Dr. Hill states emphatically that "I can see no evidence whatever that over 1-1200' of 1 per cent of the water-borne typhoid cases in this country have been or could be legitimately attributed to natural ice, and I think even this figure is greatly exaggerated. People will stand for poor water supplies and bad food supplies and bad milk supplies, and dirty hands and all other factors of typhoid fever with a 'lad heart, so long as they can kick about the ice. I want these people to stop putting their whole time and attention on the ice, holding meetings of women's clubs and everything else to protest about it, and to get right down and stir up something that amounts to something from an epidemiological standpoint."

More Germs Than In the Water.
Dr. Rosenau writes: "Ice purifies itself in freezing. But the studies made in the government laboratories showed that manufactured ice contains more bacteria than the water from which it was frozen. The proper use of ice prevents sickness and saves lives—cold ice is a warm blessing."

Watson Is Proud.

It is no wonder that Mr. Watson is happy and proud. The minor investigations which he conducted years ago and which, at his instance, have reached so high a stage, have undoubtedly saved lives, prevented sickness and satisfied people that "nature is right."

He is interested in the Dixon Pure Ice company and will co-operate with S. N. Watson in conducting the business.

OBITUARY.

Lucy F. Vail, daughter of John Sanders and wife Rebecca, was born at White Hall, Va., Feb. 2, 1860. In 1880 she came to Lee Center, Ill. She was married Feb. 2, 1884, to Stephen Vail, of Nebraska. She spent 25 years in that state, coming to this city three years ago. Her husband died in 1894, leaving her the care of three little girls. She has nobly done her life-work, and her life has been replete with kind deeds. She has made a large circle of friends since she moved to this city, who miss her in the social circle and in the west end Congregational church. She leaves three daughters, Ethel M. Buckman, Edith E. and Helen B. We shall ever remember her as the helpful friend and the cheerful companion.

BLUE LIGHT AN ANESTHETIC

Eastern Scientist Has Demonstrated the Fact in a Thorough Series of Experiments.

"One of the most remarkable actions of light has recently come to our attention," says the editor of the Journal of Surgery. "In an address before the Boston Physio-Therapeutic society Dr. E. C. Titus has demonstrated that blue light possessed remarkable anesthetic power.

"In his experiments he used a series of slender glass rods about one-eighth of an inch in thickness, placed side by side and tied together so as to form a kind of flexible mat which will adapt itself to various parts of the body. The glass must be of cobalt blue and transmit no red rays, this being a very important point. The rods are to be placed upon the area to be anesthetized, and some form of white light, preferably a tungsten lamp, brought as closely as possible without causing discomfort.

"Strange to relate, in twenty minutes the part becomes insensitive, so that superficial and even deep incisions or punctures are no longer felt. This anesthesia lasts for one-half hour or more, and has occurred so constantly that there is no reason to believe that it is the result of suggestion or accident. Minor surgical operations have been performed under this method and without the least pain or discomfort, and there seems to be enough in it to merit attention.

"More than thirty years ago there prevailed what was afterwards termed the blue glass craze. All sorts of ailments were thought to be amenable to the action of blue light, and the newspapers were filled with glowing accounts of cures. Enthusiasm ran riot for a time, and then the matter dropped out of sight.

"Some time later there was a revival of interest in phototherapy when Finson demonstrated the curative properties of the ultra-violet ray in various affections, especially lupus. Since then the physiological action of light has been carefully investigated and although much remains to be learned, there can be no doubt that we are nearer to an appreciation of its possibilities in the treatment of disease."

Our Life's Story.

Very often the success which attended our early efforts turns its back upon us in later years, and while for a time we may try to continue in detail the story of our alternate hopes and fears, our victories and our defeats, we soon realize that the record is a sorry one, and we feel ashamed to continue its recital. We forget the early promises we made to be sincere in the matter of making up our record, and because the story is not one of unalloyed success and prosperity we grow disloyal to our better selves and believe that by making no further entries in our diaries we bring them to a close. Just as we recall to memory in later years, however, the small volumes of our early youth, with their interrupted stories, we are prone also to look deeply into the record we have written in the real diary of life. It was Barrie who said that "the life of every man is a diary in which he means to write one story and writes another, and his humblest hour is when he compares the volume as it is with what he vowed to make it."

We cannot release ourselves from the obligation of writing the diary of our lives. We make the records whether we are willing or not, and for each hour and day of the year of life given to us here on earth there is a faithful entry made.—Charleston News and Courier.

British Island Reclaimed by Dutch.

Canvey Island, which is again coming into prominence in connection with the proposal to establish a great wharf there, is one of the pieces of England which were reclaimed for us by the Dutch. At one period the island was covered with water at high tide, but early in the seventeenth century Cornelius Vermuyden, the famous Dutch engineer, who was afterward knighted by Charles I, reclaimed several thousand acres by the construction of a system of seawalls. The walls are still there, but where are the Dutchmen who made them? Cornelius Vermuyden brought over workmen from Holland and many are known to have stayed here, but now their names have disappeared entirely, from Canvey at least.—Westminster Gazette.

RED CROSS IN SESSION

First International Conference Outside of Europe Meets.

Opened Today in Pan-American Union Building in Washington—All Civilized Countries Represented.

Washington, May 7.—For the first time an international Red Cross conference is being held outside of Europe. The ninth of these meetings opened today in the building of the Pan-American union with delegates present from nearly every civilized country, and about 100 from the United States.

Precisely at 2:30 o'clock the chairman of the American conference committee, Ernest P. Bicknell, gave the signal which marked the opening of the conference and President Taft rose to deliver the address of welcome to the delegates. This was followed by responses from a number of the most prominent foreign representatives and the opening of the exhibition in the new Red Cross exhibition pavilion across from the Pan-American building.

Tonight the delegates will be received by the conference committee in the Pan-American building and the real work of the conference will commence tomorrow morning with an address by Surgeon General George H. Torney, U. S. A., on the organization of the American National Red Cross for service in war.

METHODS OF INDUCING SLEEP

Relaxation of the Mind and Muscles Is the Principal Thing to Keep in Mind.

How to get to sleep, when every device fails and one feels desperate, is a matter worth solving, especially if there be simple methods that can be tried.

A well-known lecturer on hygiene, whom a very sleepless woman consulted on the subject of bad nights, gave her valuable advice, the efficacy of which she has proved.

"Stretch out your limbs to the full length, with the arms rather close to the sides of the body, and straight down," said he, "or if that is not comfortable, in any downward fashion."

"Sometimes you may find it for the moment restful to clasp the arms above the head, but on no account give way to the habit of doing so, for this position drives away the blood from the heart and sends it to the head, causing uneasy dreams, and therefore restlessness, and may even prevent sleep altogether."

"Gently close your mouth and breathe through your nose. This is highly important. Then let all the muscles of the face and neck be relaxed, and all muscles of the body, too."

Women of mature age should be as careful as girls to see that they sleep with the mouth shut, for this habit combats a tendency, growing with the years, to drop or protrude the jaw as the face is settling to sleep. A closed mouth and relaxed muscles help to keep you young looking.

Above all, sleep on your right side. Wonderful for inducing sleep is a cup of hot milk slipped slowly in bed the very last thing.

DRAWN LINE AT INKY STAMPS

Uncle Sam Ready to Redeem Them, But They Can Not Be Used to Carry a Letter.

"How dirty can a postage stamp become and still retain its usefulness in the eyes of the government?" was a question propounded to muddle the already overworked brain of a busy man. Happening to meet a postman who was collecting mail, the man handed him a stamped letter.

"That won't do," said the postman. "Stamp's dirty."

As was his wont on special occasions, he busy man resorted to sarcasm.

"Since when," he demanded, "did the United States government become so immaculate that it requires none but unsullied stamps stuck on its letters?"

"Well, they've always been pretty particular," returned the unperturbed postman, "but there are some kinds of dirt that count for more than others. That stamp's got ink on it. Inky stamps won't go, because an ink spot could be used to disguise a canceled stamp."

"Then I suppose every stamp I happen to drop a speck of ink on is wasted?"

"Oh, no. Turn it in to the office where you bought it, and after a certain period you will get your money back."

"How long will that take?" the man asked.

"About three months."

"I'm afraid I can't wait," said the man, and over the discredited stamp, he stuck a spotless one.

Big Trout.

Steelhead trout are running in their natural habitat, which is the streams of southern California, and twelve of the beauties were recently caught from near the mouth of the Ventura river. Fred Hartman of Ventura got the prizes of the day in two fish which are the largest which have been caught in many seasons. One measured 28½ inches in length and the other 30 inches.

MUGGINS' BAD WINTER

PET BULLDOG HAS FOUND TIME HANG RATHER HEAVY.

Too Much a Believer in the Strenuous Life to Be Pleasant Companion for His Owner's Mother—"Last Time," She Says.

Muggins had had rather a dismal time of it this winter. His master's extended business trip made it necessary for the bulldog to be left at home in mother's keeping. She is afraid to take him out except on the leash, as he is so fond of raising a rumpus with other dogs. But she does not consider it either dignified or enjoyable to be towed along, because Muggins will act the part of a stout tug against which human muscle is of no avail. So poor Muggins has stayed in the house a large part of the time, which disgusts him. Now and then neighbors volunteer to give an outing to him, but when Muggins has rushed them about for half an hour or so without a pause for breath, they feel they have had more of an outing than Muggins did, and their offer seldom is repeated.

At first mother thought the question of home amusement for Muggins would be solved easily, as he had invented a game for himself of which he never tired. This consisted of digging a half brick or good-sized stone out of the earth and chasing it about the yard—giving it sharp pokes with his nose, then pouncing on it like a cat on a mouse, only to send it flying with another shove. But when mother saw two of her choicest shrubs snapped off like pipestems by Muggins' sharp teeth, because he couldn't take time to go round them in his exciting career, she promptly vetoed the performance, and poor Muggins can't even look at a brick without receiving a reprimand from mother.

He only had had one fight this winter, and that really was not Muggins' fault. A reputedly ill-natured Irish terrier went past Muggins' home and made some very impolite remarks through the fence. Muggins happened to be loose in the yard for the moment, and at once darted out at his insulter. The terrier was with his mistress, and when Muggins leaped up into the air and landed directly on top of her pet—which is his own original way of giving battle—she screamed with terror and fled across the street. Mother had witnessed Muggins' sudden departure and hurried out to discover its cause. The dogs were invisible to her until she reached the street, but when she heard that scream her only expectation was to find a few scattered pieces of some local dog. To her joy Muggins was only lying on top of his foe, chewing him up comfortably, while the yelps rapidly grew louder. Muggins was hauled off in short order, and the licked terrier limped rapidly away. Muggins wagged his stumpy tail and looked up proudly at mother as though to say: "Didn't I make him apologize handsomely?" But mother declares that this is the last time she shall act as guardian to her son's cherished bulldog.

Real Home in the Air.

A novel "home in the sky" was recently constructed in the vicarage garden, at Moulton, Northamptonshire, England, by the vicar's young son. The lad one day climbed a tree about sixty feet high, but was unable to descend. For nearly an hour he had to remain in his airy cage and a ladder had to be fetched before he could reach the ground. Undaunted, and together they planned the conquest of the tree. Pieces of iron were driven in to give footholds. In the topmost branches a hut was constructed with boards. Seats and a table were fitted. A flag attached to a flag pole which jutted out through the branches marks the "Peter Pan like" abode. A bicycle wheel from which the tire has been removed has been fixed at the top of the tree and is used as a windlass by means of which an oil stove, for making tea, and other things dear to the hearts of boys have been hauled up to the hut.

Pilgrims to the Holy Land.

Many Christian pilgrims annually visit the Holy Land in Syria, but compared with the number of Mohammedan pilgrims who visit their Holy Land in Arabia, the Christian pilgrims are few. Every Mohammedan feels it a duty to visit before he dies, both Mecca and Medina, the birthplace and burial place of their prophet.

Some Good in Family Quarrels.

"Family quarrels," remarked the social observer, "are not always such a bad thing, for by them the surcharged air is cleared, and, after the mental bruises have healed, either peace is complete, or there has been made a good riddance of some bad rubbish."

Change of Residence.

The minister's wife who testified in court that she had 30 homes in eight years is competent to sympathize with that preacher's daughter who used to tell her friends that she was born all along the South Shore.—Boston Transcript.

Ship's Pet.

Reading that divers at work at Cowes had found the ram of the cruiser Hawke, weighing several tons, a dear old lady, says London Punch, remarked that she did not know that ships as well as regiments had pets.

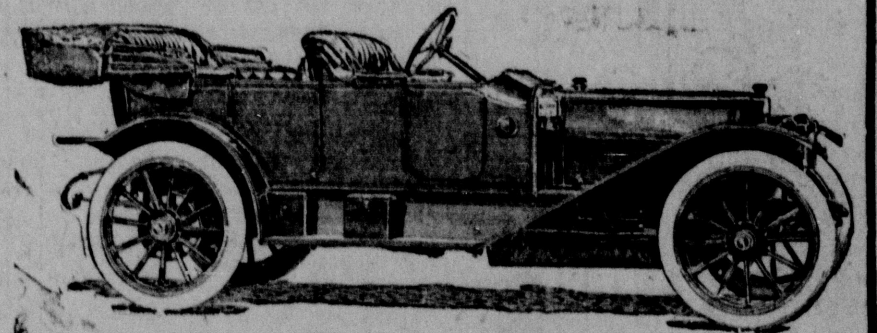

When You Think

Of the pain which many women experience with every month it makes the gentleness and kindness always associated with womanhood seem to be almost a miracle. While in general no woman rebels against what she regards as a natural necessity there is no woman who would not gladly be free from this recurring period of pain.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well, and gives them freedom from pain. It establishes regularity, subdues inflammation, heals ulceration and cures female weakness.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence strictly private and sacredly confidential. Write without fear and without fee to World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y.

If you want a book that tells all about woman's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 21 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce to pay cost of mailing only, and he will send you a free copy of his great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser—revised, up-to-date edition, in paper covers. In handsome cloth-binding, 31 stamps.

A LITTLE DANDERINE WILL MAKE YOUR HAIR LUSTROUS, SOFT, FLUFFY, ABUNDANT

Get a 25 Cent Bottle Now and Forever Stop Falling Hair, Itching Scalp and Dandruff

If you Wish to Double the Beauty of your Hair in Ten Minutes surely Try a Danderine Hair Cleanse

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a Danderine hair cleanse. Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

A delightful surprise awaits particularly those who have been careless, whose hair has been neglected or is scraggly, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

Try as you will, after one application of Danderine you cannot find any dandruff or a loose or falling hair, and your scalp will never itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair sprouting all over the scalp. Danderine makes the hair grow long, heavy and luxuriant and we can prove it. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it surely get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any druggist or toilet counter, and just try it.

CHAPTER IV.

The Beginning of Trouble.

Her hand was in mine, my arm already around her waist, when the officer bowed before us. He had been

"If I Leave You Now as You Request I Must First Have Promise of Welcome Again."

but a dim figure in the afternoon, but now I saw him for a tall, slender man, somewhat swarthy of face, with black hair and mustache, and a keen eye, attired in the green and white of the Queen's Rangers. He smiled, but with a sarcastic curl to the upper lip not altogether pleasant.

"Your pardon, Mistress Claire," he said boldly, sweeping me with a supercilious glance, "but am I mistaken in believing this waltz was pledged to me?"

"By mistake, captain," her lips smiling, her eyes steady. "It seems I overlooked a promise made during the afternoon."

"Oh, indeed," he turned toward me, staring insolently. "The hero of the rescue, I presume."

I felt the restraining pressure of her hand upon my sleeve, and her voice replied calmly, before I succeeded in finding words.

"This is the gentleman who protected me from the mob, if that is what you mean. Permit me to present Captain Grant of the Queen's Rangers, Lieutenant—pardon my having already forgotten your name."

"Portesque," I stammered, intensely hating the necessary deception.

"Ah, yes—Lieutenant Portesque of the Forty-second British Foot."

We bowed coldly, neither extending a hand, the captain twisting his mustache as he continued staring at me.

"Portesque," he repeated slowly.

"Portesque; not of this garrison, I believe."

"No, from New York," coolly. "I regret having interfered with your program."

"Don't mention it; there are other ladies present, and, no doubt, your gallant act was worthy the reward; a pleasant evening, sir," and he withdrew aside, stiffly military. Eager to lose as little as possible of the measure, I swung my partner forward, catching glimpse again of the man's face as we circled.

"Pleasant disposition," I ventured, without meaning to be unkind.

"Oh, very," and her eyes met mine frankly. "But you must not quarrel with him; that is his one specialty, you know."

"Is the warning on your account, or my own?"

"Both, perhaps. Captain Grant's family and mine are neighbors—or were before war intervened—and between our fathers exists a life-long friendship. I could never consent to be the cause of his quarreling with anyone, and I have reason to know how quick tempered he is."

"I have little use for any man who swaggers about seeking trouble," I returned, as she hesitated. "It has been my experience that there is usually cowardice back of such a disposition."

"Not in this case," earnestly. "Captain Grant's courage has been sufficiently tested already. I warn you not to presume on your theory so far as he is concerned. I advise the safer course."

"What is that?"

Her eyes met mine, smiling slightly, and yet grave enough in their depths.

"To let this one dance prove sufficient reward for your act of rescue."

"You request this?"

"Oh, you must not place the entire burden of decision on me, sir. I can only suggest."

"Has Captain Grant any authority to dictate who shall be your partner?"

Her lashes lifted, and then fell before my gaze.

"He at least assumes the power, and generally with fair success. I must ask to be excused from discussing this matter further now, but—but," her voice trembled to a whisper, "I—" am sure your safety depends upon your leaving me."

Astonished by these words, suddenly wondering if she suspected me, scarcely comprehending what she meant, I stared into her face, as we circled the room. Grant stood stiffly against the wall where we left him, his eyes fastened moodily on the crowd; I realized his presence, yet my whole thought was concentrated on the girl, the strands of her hair brushing my lips, her steps lightly following the music, her eye downcast. Into the cheeks there came a flush of pink, and she glanced up to read the surprise in my face.

"Do I need to say more?"

"Yes, you must," I insisted, "you can never believe I would leave you because of personal fear."

"I did not know—at first. Now I realize it will require a higher motive to influence you; not love of life, but love of country."

I felt the closer clasp of her fingers on my guiding hand, and knew I took a deep breath of surprise.

"Lean your head just a little closer," she whispered. "I know you, Major Lawrence, and—and I wish you well."

How I kept to the measure I cannot imagine, for, in an instant, all my house of cards crumbled into nothingness. She knew me, this blue-eyed girl; knew me, and sought to aid my mission, this daughter of a loyalist, this lady of the Blended Rose. It was inconceivable, and yet a fact—my name had been whispered by her lips.

Suddenly she looked up laughing, as though to make others feel that we conversed lightly. We passed Grant, even as I held my breath, almost afraid to venture with words. Yet they would not be restrained.

"You certainly startled me; how do you know this? Surely we have never met before?"

"I refuse to be questioned, sir; it means nothing how I know—the fact that I do should be sufficient."

"Must Mistress Claire—"

"Rather Mistress Mortimer."

"Yet the captain called you Claire."

"And we were children together—you can scarcely claim such familiarity."

"I warrant you can name me."

"Allen, is it not, sir?"

What was it the witch did not know! This was no guess work, surely, and yet how could her strange knowledge be accounted for? Sweet as the face was, greatly as it had attracted me, there was nothing to awaken a throb of memory. Surely I could never have seen her before, and forgotten; that would have been impossible. The music ceased, leaving us at the farther extremity of the hall.

"And now you will go?" she questioned eagerly.

"You mean, leave here?"

"Yes; you said once tonight, that but for me you would be riding yonder. I realized all you meant, and you must not remain. The guard lines are slack tonight, and you can get through, but if you wait until tomorrow it may be too late. Believe me, I am your friend, a friend of your cause."

"I do believe you; I could not connect you with deceit, but I am bewildered at this sudden exposure. Does Captain Grant also suspect my identity?"

"I think not—not yet, at least, for if he did you would be under arrest. But there are others here who would recognize you just as I have. There is no mystery about it. I was in Philadelphia when the Continental troops were here, and you were pointed out to me then. No, we have never met, yet I was sure I recognized you this afternoon."

"I was pointed out to you by whom?"

"My brother—my twin brother on the staff of General Lee."

"Did you not inform me your family were loyalists?"

"Yes; it is true," earnestly, her foot tapping the floor, as though annoyed at such persistent questioning. "I have a father and brother in the king's service—but one is a renegade, and I—I—"

"You are what?"

"I am merely a woman, sir, unable to determine whether to finally become loyalist or rebel."

I looked gravely into her eyes until they fell, vowing their revelation of truth behind long lashes.

"Mistress Mortimer," I murmured, bending so close to her pink ear, I felt the soft touch of her hair on my lips, "you dissemble so charmingly as to even puzzle me. But if I leave you now, as you request, I must first have promise of welcome again."

"Then you mean to return—a prisoner? I am always merciful to the suffering."

"No; we are coming back to Philadelphia victors, and soon. I am not afraid to tell you. I have learned much today, and go back to report to Washington that the exchange of British commanders means the early evacuation of the city. When we meet again you will not be a lady of the Blended Rose, nor will I be wearing this uniform."

Her eyes sparkled brightly into mine, then dropped demurely.

"I—I rather like the colors you are wearing now, and am sure this dress is most becoming. I—I have a passion for masquerade."

"I recognize that, but have already discovered where I can read the truth beyond the masque—what is occurring now?"

She turned to look, attracted as I had been by the change and bustle about us. A few feet from where we stood conversing, large folding doors, previously concealed by draperies, were suddenly flung wide open, revealing a magnificent dining hall. Dazzled by the magnificent spectacle, I turned to my companion, unable to resist temptation. She must have instantly read the purpose in my face, for she grasped my sleeve.

"No; you must not think of remaining a moment longer. There will be a seat reserved for me, and Captain Grant is coming this way now. Something is wrong, I am sure; I have no time to explain, but promise me you will leave here at once—at once."

Her eyes, her words, were so insistent I could not refuse, although as I glanced about I felt convinced there was no danger in this assemblage, not a familiar face meeting mine. At the instant Grant came up, elbowing his way through the press, and staring insolently into my eyes, even as he bowed politely to the lady beside me.

"At least this is my privilege," he insisted, "unless there be another previous engagement of which I am ignorant."

"Oh, no," and she rested her hands on the green sleeve, smiling from his face into mine. "We were waiting for you to come. Goodnight, Lieutenant Portesque."

They had taken a step or two, when Grant halted, holding her arm tightly as he glanced back to where I stood.

"Would Lieutenant Portesque spare me a moment after I have found the lady a seat?" he questioned politely.

"Gladly, if you do not keep me waiting too long."

"Then there will be no delay. Shall we say the parlor below?"

I moved, conscious of the mute appeal in the lady's face, yet with no excuse for refusal.

"As well there as anywhere, sir."

Once again we bowed with all the punctilious ceremony of mutual dislike, and he whispered something into her ear as they disappeared in the stream of people. My cheeks burned with indignation at his cool insolence. What could it mean? Was he merely seeking a quarrel? or was there something else concealed behind this request? In either case I knew not how to act, and yet felt no inclination to avoid the meeting. Studying over the situation I pushed my way through the crowd across the floor of the ballroom. There were a few people still lingering on the stairs, but except for the servants, the parlors below were deserted. I walked the length of one of the great rooms, and halted in front of a fireplace to await Grant's coming. I was eager to have this affair settled, and be off. I comprehended now the risk I had assumed by remaining so long, and began to feel the cords of entanglement drawing about me. There was a door opposite where I stood, and, staring toward it, I saw it open slightly, and, back in the darkness, the beckoning of a hand. Startled, yet realizing that it must mean me, I stepped closer, gripping the hilt of my sword, half suspecting treachery.

"Quick," and I recognized the deep contralto of the voice. "Don't stop to question; there is not a moment to lose."

Henkel-Happ

On Thursday morning, May 2nd, 1912, in St. Mary's Roman Catholic church of West Brooklyn, occurred the beautiful ceremony uniting the lives of Miss Mary T. Henkel and Peter J. Happ Jr. The services commenced at 9 o'clock when the wedding march was played and during which time the happy couple proceeded to the altar, where Rev. Edward Berthold spoke the solemn words of marriage. A high mass followed and was attended by scores of relatives and friends of the participating parties.

The bride was accompanied by Miss Catherine Happ while the groom was assisted by Jacob Henkel, sister and brother, respectfully of the two people, whom they were serving. The bride wore a dress of marquisette silk trimmed in rich laces, and looked very handsome. Her maid wore a dress to match, as also did the best man dress similar to the groom who was garbed in the conventional black. In her hand, the bride carried a very pretty bouquet of roses of a delicate white hue.

After the ceremony the bride and couple repaired to the John C. Henkel home south of town where a sumptuous wedding dinner was awaiting them. Only the immediate relatives were in attendance besides St. Mary's choir. The latter entertained the visitors very cordially with their music and singing and thus their presence was appreciated very much. The dining table was trimmed with ferns and smilax and carried several bouquets of carnations. The interior of the home itself was decorated in shades of green, intermingled with red. The wedding cake was a dainty affair and one of the most magnificent seen in a long time in this neighborhood.

Both young people are well thought of in this vicinity and in fact, wherever they are known. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joan C. Henkel and comes from one of the best families in the county. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Happ, Sr., wealthy residents of Troy Grove, and a family carrying the highest respects of every acquaintance.

Mr. and Mrs. Happ will live south of Mendota on a farm and although the distance from this village will be increased between them and home by this removal, we hope to see them in our midst often. Our heartiest congratulations and best wishes go out to them and we trust that theirs will be a long and happy life.

"IN A BAD WAY"

Many a Dixon Reader Will Feel Grateful for This Information

When your back gives out,
Becomes lame, weak or aching;
When urinary troubles set in,
Your kidneys are "in a bad way"
Doan's Kidney Pills are for sick kidneys.

Local evidence proves their merit.
Mrs. C. Charlton, 77 Peoria Ave., Dixon, Ill., says: I was in poor health for some time and the result of disordered kidneys. My back bothered me a great deal, being very weak stiff and lame. I tried easily and had various other symptoms of kidney complaint. Finally I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Leake Bros. Co.'s Drug Store and their use soon relieved me." (Statement given April 14, 1909)

Confirmed Proof.

When Mrs. Charlton was interviewed on January 5, 1910 she said:
"Doan's Kidney Pills brought permanent relief in my case. You may continue to publish my testimonial."

For Sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents, Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo,
New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—
and take no other.

MARYLAND FOR CLARK

MISSOURIAN AND ROOSEVELT GET POPULAR PLURALITY

Baltimore, Md., May 7.—Incomplete returns from the state indicate that Theodore Roosevelt and Champ Clark were victorious at the presidential preference primary held in this state.
Unless later returns make radical changes Mr. Roosevelt will have 66 delegates in the Republican state convention to 63 for President Taft.

Mr. Clark will have 69 delegates to the Democratic state convention.
Woodrow Wilson 56, and Judson Harmon, 4.

Clark and Roosevelt swept Baltimore city and both get the popular plurality in the state.

Fallon, Neb., May 7.—The state Republican convention indorsed the Taft administration and instructed the delegates-at-large for Taft.

Reed, Nev., May 7.—Six Taft men were named at the Republican state convention here, and were instructed to vote for his nomination.

MAY HALT LIBRARY SALE

Virginia Governor Lays Claim to Losing Manuscripts, About to Be Disposed of at Auction.

New York, May 7.—Following sena-tional disclosures, the sale of American manuscripts from the library of the late Benson John Lossing, artist, author and historian, to begin on Thursday at the Anderson galleries, may be halted.

The sale has attracted the attention
of bibliophiles all over the country.

The Anderson Auction company is in receipt of a letter from the government of Virginia in which he states that about one-third of the 300 items comprising part 1 of the sale are the property of the state of Virginia.

Dispatches from Richmond state that the manuscripts which include
the rarest specimens of handwriting and autographs of famous men and women, were taken from the state library of Virginia. It is thought that they were abstracted during the Civil war. For years Virginia authorities have been searching for them.

A dispatch from Richmond states that an assistant attorney general and the state librarians are on their way to New York to take legal action for the recovery of the rarities.

SOLDIER OF FORTUNE ILL

Gen. Homer Lea, Who Helped Overthrow Manchu Dynasty, Reaches Filisco Broken in Health.

San Francisco, May 7.—Broken in health and unable to leave his stateroom since leaving Yokohama, Gen.
Homer Lea, friend and adviser of Dr.
Sun Yat Sen, arrived in San Francisco
on the liner Shijo Maru from Shanghai.

General Lea, soldier of fortune, who is supposed to have operated the chessboard in the strategic and daring revolution which resulted in the overthrow of the Manchu dynasty, returns
to this country a broken Napoleon.

The strain incident to the revolution and overwork in a literary way, is said
to have caused his general breakdown.

WORKERS' BILL IS PASSED

Democrats Bitterly Oppose Adoption of Compensation Measure But Goes Through in Senate.

Washington, May 7.—Although bitterly opposed by nearly all the Democratic senators as being in violent opposition to the interest of railroad employees, the workmen's compensation
bill was passed by the senate by a vote of 64 to 15.

When the hour came for a vote the opposition endeavored to defeat the purpose of the bill by loading it with amendments. In this they did not succeed, although with each amendment they demanded a roll call.

Democratic members believe that they will be able to defeat the bill in the house.

Berlin, May 7.—The maritime conference, called on Emperor William's initiative in consequence of the Titanic disaster, was opened at the department of the interior under the pres-dency of the secretary of state.

ASHTON PLANS BIG DAY ON JULY 4TH

CITIZENS OF THAT HUSTLING TOWN WILL HAVE BIG CELE-BRATION ON INDEPENDENCE DAY.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY WAS FINE

Second Team Won From Rochelle—
Chas. Hunt in Runaway—Series of Sermons Started—Storm Damages Phones—Lack of Sunday Papers Disappoints Many.

May 6.—Work on the Ashton bank, which has been interrupted for a couple of weeks on account of the non-arrival of material, was resumed last Friday by Contractor Mark Smith of Dixon and his men, and the work will be pushed rapidly to completion.

Miss Mary Roat of Amboy was a visitor last week at the home of her sister, Mrs. Bart Orner.

The boys of the second team went to Rochelle Saturday and engaged in combat with the boys of that town
in a game of baseball. Our boys returned home victors by the score of 13 to 3. Quite a bunch of rooters accompanied the boys and they say it was a pretty fair game, although one sided. The Rochelle lads will play a return game here in the near future.

Geo. Kersten and Wm. Krug accompanied by Griesle & McCade, agts.
for the Imperial car, were in Chicago Saturday and brought out three new model 34 autos. The boys are well pleased with the new machines.
Andy Butler is also sporting one of the new Imperial autos which shows up in fine shape.

Carl Greve was in Dixon Saturday evening visiting his lady friend.

Services were held in the Catholic church Sunday morning by Father Burke of Rochelle. There was a large attendance.

Postmaster H. E. Chadwick and Wm. Paddock, who have been, altho for some time, are greatly improved
at this writing, we are glad to hear.
Mr. Paddock's sister, Mrs. Martin of Rockford, and Mrs. Williams, a sister from Chicago, are here for a visit with him.

Harrison Wagner came down from Wheaton where he attends college,
for a Sunday visit with his parents and to attend the class play in the opera house Friday evening.

Paul C. Kelly opened up his ice cream season Saturday to a lot of satisfied customers. He will make the lowest prices to parties, socials,
etc. He is sole agent for the product of the Becker Dairy company of Rochelle.

Mrs. Geo. B. Stephan was in Sycamore last Friday to see Mrs. Horn, who has been very ill for the past week.

Miss Nellie Griffith was in Dixon
Friday to visit her sister, Mrs. W. E.
Trein.

Chas. Hunt had quite an exciting time in going home from town last Friday. The horse became frightened and started to run, ending up by bumping into a telephone pole and throwing Mr. Hunt out and skinning him up somewhat. The shafts of the buggy were broken and some damage done to the harness but Charlie was in town Saturday as spry as ever.

John Thome of Dixon was in town Saturday. John has many friends in Ashton who are always glad to see him. He has just completed a job of lathing in the country near here.

L. T. Moore had his harness store wired for electricity one day last week.

The severe rain, hail and thunder storm here last Friday afternoon did considerable damage to telephones
in this city, quite a few being without service for some time.

Miss Eva Arnold came home from her school duties at West Brooklyn Friday evening for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Arnold, and also to attend the class play at the opera house.

Wm. Fee, our popular station agent, returned from Mud Springs Saturday, where he has been for a couple of weeks taking treatment.
Mr. Fee says he is much improved in health.

S. T. Zeller Sr. was in Chicago on business Thursday.

A great many of our citizens were disappointed Sunday morning by not being able to purchase their Sunday
papers, owing to the strike in Chicago. The "kids" were the most disappointed as it was the first time in a long while there were no "funny papers."

The auction sale at Benson's meat market was held Saturday at 1 p. m.
and a big crowd attended. The bidding was lively and everything brought a fair price. Wm. Meister bought a top buggy for $3.50 and

CHICAGO ROAD NEWS

Chicago Road, May 6.—A number of our farmers, having taken advantage of the high prices, and sold their oats, have been hauling to Nachusa, the last two weeks.

Frank Cramer and Charlie Grobe
shelled corn Saturday.

Elmer Burdick spent Sunday in Eldena.

Mrs. Mossholder and Mrs. Bothe
called on Mrs. Du Bois Sunday.

Mrs. Cramer spent the day Sunday visiting with her folks in Sterling.

Francis Miller drove out to his farm on Friday. He is feeling fairly well. His daughter, Mrs.
Nevis, of Peoria, spent Saturday and Sunday with him.

Grandma Du Bois has been so fortunate as to secure a very pleasant and efficient housekeeper, Mrs.
Weed, of Dixon.

The road commissioners expect to meet today to discuss the subject of the hard roads, which, we are very much in hopes, will be put through this summer.

Miss Brown is making preparations for the building of her new house.

Charlie Mossholder expects to commence hauling lumber, this week,
to build an addition to his house.

Joshua Hoyle and housekeeper,
Mrs. Lease, of Nachusa, visited with his son, Lester, on Sunday afternoon.

The Hollister school, Miss Agnes Levan, teacher, closed for the summer vacation Saturday, and celebrated the event with its annual picnic. The women had things decidedly their own way; as there was not a man present, owing to the corn-shelling in the neighborhood,
and lateness of spring work, generally their own way, as there was joyed, however, the weather being very favorable.

CHILDHOOD A VARIED PERIOD

From Twenty Years, in the Human Race, It Grades Down to a Few Weeks Among the Birds.

The childhood of animals varies with the total length of life, with the size, and especially with the position, in the life scale. Long lived animals,
large animals and highly developed
animals usually have a long youth.
The educated human being requires 20 years to grow up; the savage about 15; the higher monkeys—the gorilla and the orang—12 to 14 years; the baboon, 8 years, and the small monkeys, about half that time. The less intelligent cut race has a youth of but 4 or 5 years among the larger kinds. The vegetable-eating animals, mostly of small intelligence, grow up quickly, the buffalo and all the big antelopes and deer having only about 2 years of childhood, and the chamois
somewhat longer, although the giraffe has 5 or 6 years. The elephant, the largest of land animals and one of the most intelligent, is not grown up until 20 to 25 years old. All birds have a short youth, looking after themselves in 3 weeks to 3 months, but becoming grown up in 1 to 4 years. Many reptiles—like the tortoise, crocodile, and alligator—seem to grow all their lives.
Certain other creatures have a short adult period—the mayfly, for instance, spending 2 years on the bottom of a pond, and living but a few hours after emerging fully grown from its skin covering. Still more extreme is the American cicada, which groves 17 years underground, and lives but 2 or 3 weeks after emerging.

Bill says he will be out enjoying himself every day now. P. W. Kelly of Franklin Grove was the auctioneer.
Mr. Benson will go on the road as a traveling salesman for a grocery firm. We understand Oscar Schade will soon open up a first class meat market in the building vacated by Mr. Benson.

Mrs. W. B. McCrea and daughter Evelyn were visitors in Rockford on business and pleasure last Saturday.

A reception will be held in the opera house next Friday evening at which time the Juniors will entertain the Seniors.

The United Home Mission society
will meet at the home of Mrs. Benj.
Yenerich next Thursday afternoon,
May 9th.

Mrs. Clark of Rochelle was here
a couple of days last week the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Dell Clark.

Mrs. Amanda Bates was a visitor
in Rochelle Friday.

Rev. Walter of the United Evangelical church began a series of sermons last Sunday evening on the subject, "The Second Coming of Christ."

There was a large attendance and all enjoyed the fine address. The second sermon of the series will be given next Sunday evening.

There is considerable talk of Ashton getting up an old-fashioned celebration on July 4th. Our band boys have taken the lead in the affairs we understand, and the business men
and others of our city should join with the band and do all they can toward making our celebration a sure thing. Ashton can always draw an immense crowd on the 4th or any other time for that matter and now is the time to get busy and let the surrounding towns know we are the first in the field. It is three years since Ashton celebrated.

Bids for the construction of hard roads in Ashton township will be opened at the city hall next Friday afternoon, May 10.

A. C. Moeller and wife of Dixon motored through our city Sunday on their way east.

Mrs. Geo. Garrett visited her father in Franklin Grove a couple of days last week.

The play entitled, At the End of the Rainbow, given by the high school class of 1912 at the opera house Friday evening, was presented to a capacity house, over 400 seats being sold. We would not attempt to mention each one who took part, in particular but the cast as a whole
did exceedingly fine and the large audience was more than delighted with the evening's entertainment. The young people certainly worked hard to make the play a success and that they succeeded is evidenced by the many kind words and best wishes
they have received on all sides.

F. P. Eisenberg of the Racket store was a business visitor in Dixon Friday.

If you intend to buy an automobile, don't forget to give the Imperial a careful investigation on specifications, etc., for it's no better than the best, but better than the rest.

Griesle & McCade, Agts., Ashton, Ill.

Samuel Mall was up from Dixon
in his car Sunday visiting relatives.

A large amount of asparagus is being shipped to the Chicago market from Ashton. The warm weather and showers of the past week made the "grass" grow very rapidly. Asparagus was selling in town Saturday at 3 bunches for 25 cents, which is very reasonable so early in the season.

C. S. Kron of Dixon arrived Monday and has opened up a first class tailor shop in the basement under the Gazette office, where he is ready to take orders for anything in his line.

Guy Miller and A. G. Harris of Dixon were in Ashton Saturday on business.

Miss Ida E. Billmire and Miss Sophia Hotzel went to Rockford Monday on business. Miss Hotzel will remain through the week for a visit with friends.

Lex Hartzell, who is employed at the Countryman market in Dixon,
was home for a week-end visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Hartzell.

James Drais, an old gentleman living about seven miles southeast of town, died about midnight Saturday.
He had not lived long in this community and we hear had been ill but about two weeks. We were unable to learn any further particulars.

John J. Zeller of Lewisburg, Ohio, returned home Sunday evening after a pleasant week's visit with his brother, S. T. Zeller Sr., and family.

Mr. Stocking of Rochelle was here
Sunday in his 90 horse power car.

Paul C. Kelly was called to Davenport, Ia., Monday morning by the serious illness of his niece, Mrs.
Chas. Harrington. She has been ill with pneumonia and her recovery is doubtful.

KILLS SELF DURING VISIT

Miss Elsa Rickaby, Daughter of Church
Organist, Accidentally Fires Pistol Bullet Into Her Head.

Springfield, May 7.—Miss Elsa Rickaby, daughter of Prof. T. L. Rickaby, organist of Christ Episcopal church, accidentally killed herself at the home of Attorney George W. Morgan. The young woman, who had been attending the Normal university at Normal, where her mother also was studying, arrived in the city to visit Miss Alice Morgan, daughter of Mr. Morgan. As Miss Rickaby entered a room assigned to her, she picked up a revolver. The weapon was accidentally discharged, the bullet taking effect in her temple.

Killed in Alton Wreck.

Springfield, May 7.—One man, unidentified, and beating his way from Kansas City to Springfield, was killed, and half a dozen persons were injured, when the Chicago & Alton's Kansas City-Chicago train, the Nightingale, was wrecked two miles west of Cockrell. The entire train of five cars, behind the engine, left the rails. None of the injured is hurt seriously. The train, which was making average speed, was within less than half an hour's run of this city over the Alton's "air line," the cut-off used by Chicago-Kansas City trains. In some manner, which has not been explained, the tender left the track and the rest of the train followed.

Note Tells of Prize Fight.

Springfield, May 7.—An anonymous letter, alleged to have been written by a former employee of the Riverside club on the Sangamon river, was received by Acting Governor Oglesby, telling of a prize fight by the club. The letter was turned over to State's Attorney Burke for investigation. It was found that members of the club had engaged in friendly contests, but no prize fights had been staged. It is probable the club will post a notice forbidding boxing contests to avoid further complaint.

One-Leg Man Jumps to Death.

Centerville, May 7.—Minus his right leg, which had been amputated, Antonio Kovolsky, twenty-two, jumped from a second-story window in St. Mary's hospital to his death here. After alighting he climbed over a high wire fence before dying. A coroner's jury decided death was not suicidal, but occurring during delirium. The original injury was sustained when Kovolsky was run over in the Junction City mine and his leg crushed.

Captor and Prisoner Die.

Benton, May 7.—William T. Smith was killed here by Policeman William Odom while resisting arrest. As he fell he fired and fatally wounded Odom. Smith was a teamster and leaves a wife. Odom was well known through southern Illinois, having served four years as a deputy sheriff before going on the police force. He leaves a widow.

Mine Fan House Burns.

Percy, May 7.—The fan house at the No. 6 mine of the Willis Coal company burned. Repairs were being made and a blow torch exploded. The mine had been in operation two days since the suspension and will have to close down again until a new building is erected and repairs made.

Will Use Dowle's Picture.

Zion City, May 7.—Wilbur Glenn Voliva, overseer of Zion City, in a sermon announced that he would contest with Mrs. Jane Dowle the right to use the picture of the late John Alexander Dowle in church literature and in other ways for the promotion of Zion City interests.

Woman Dies of Auto Injuries.

Charleston, May 7.—Relatives here have received word that Miss Lena Rice, formerly of Charleston, died in Seattle, Wash., following injuries she received in an automobile accident. Miss Rice left here about three years ago following the death of her mother, Mrs. Al Rice.

Children Find Dead Woman.

Minook, May 7.—Children while going to Sunday school saw the body of a young woman, supposed to be Mrs. J. H. Sengpiel, under the steps of the public schoolhouse. The woman was dead, and a revolver by her side and bullet hole in her breast explained her death.

High School Orators Win.

Kewanee, May 7.—Alvin Ruttenbeck of Davenport won first place in the declamatory contest of the Association of High Schools of Eastern Iowa and Western Illinois. Dudley of Canton was second, and Magill of Princeton, third.

Cannot Remember Having Wed.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., May 7.—Eleanor K. Frazier, of Middletown, N. Y., has applied to Justice Morschauer for annulment of her marriage to Mariot F. Rasher four years ago. She says she cannot remember having been married, and knew nothing about it for some time afterward.

Here is the place and now is the time. Start a savings account right today. Start it with us. Delays mean loss of interest—prompt action means money saved and earned. For years and years we have paid 6 per cent interest on savings accounts. The cost of joining is nominal. Frequently there are chances to buy shares that have been running for considerable time, thus getting a good sized amount to working at once and having correspondingly less time to carry the stock to maturity. Let us know what amount you would like to invest and we'll look out for what you want. If you desire to build and need money—we've got it to loan at a reasonable rate of interest. Anyway, call and let's talk the matter over.

A Lesson From a Grocery Paper

MACARONI—Although this is an old European dish, we little understand the splendid nourishing qualities of Macaroni in its various forms. It takes the place of meat and is very inexpensive, as compared with the high meat prices. The majority of human beings would be better off if they ate more Macaroni. Not alone would they be better off physically but they would be saving considerable money. Take as an illustration—the cheapest kind of meat you can buy is worth at least 8 cents per pound on the hoof. Macaroni on the opposite side, is worth 10 cents per pound and one pound of Macaroni is sufficient for three or four meals. IN SHORT, one pound of meat costing 8c for one meal—or 2 meals cost 10 cents.
